Ref: - Model Celeste

Dear Sirs,

With reference to the Model Celeste, I have worked with her on a number of occasions, and found her to be an active, well-experienced model. She has an outgoing character and will actively input to any creative scenario. She "plays the part" and can model various and differing styles from gothic to high fashion.

She has a unique look, which she can change dependant upon the role and imagery that she is required to produce.

She has much experience, in both acting and modeling and will create the look that is required. She is easy to work with, has a very good understanding of the English language and is also easy to communicate with.

I would recommend her for her looks and ability, in front of the camera or in public for photographic, film, stage and promotional work.

Regards
